IS YOUR CURRENT DRENCH REALLY WORKING?

Reduced drench efficacy can easily cost you thousands of dollars in lost productivity every year. If you don't know the efficacy of your drench, then find out this season by completing a free DrenchCheck worth about $200! A DrenchCheck is a simple way to indicate the efficacy of your existing drench against the worm burden in your sheep at the time of testing. A DrenchCheck involves conducting two Worm Egg Count (WEC) tests to determine the reduction in the worm egg count after drenching. The first test is conducted before drenching. The second test is conducted 10–14 days after drenching. The presence of any worm eggs – even very low counts – 14 days after drenching may indicate a problem. The larval culture results from the second test will indicate which worm species survived treatment and may be resistant to that drench. Re-treatment with an effective drench may be required. Conducting a full DrenchTest (Worm or Faecal Egg Count Reduction Test) every 2–3 years is regarded as best practice to accurately determine the resistance status and efficacy of each drench class against each worm species on your property.<sup>6</sup>

REGISTER NOW FOR YOUR FREE $230 DRENCH CHECK!

- Register online at zolvixplusrwards.com.au before your next planned drench.
- Your local Elanco representative will contact you to discuss your current program and provide directions on how to conduct a DrenchCheck.
- You will receive two Elanco Worm Test kits (either directly from your Elanco representative or posted), each containing 10 sample jars, gloves, instructions, order/authorisation form and a pre-paid Express Post bag.
- Use the first kit to collect 10 faecal samples before drenching and dispatch to the testing laboratory using the pre-paid Express Post bag.
- Use the second kit to collect 10 faecal samples 10–14 days after drenching and dispatch to the testing laboratory using the pre-paid Express Post bag.
- Your local Elanco representative will contact you to discuss the results and to provide recommendations on how to maintain or increase the effectiveness of your drenching program. Then you will know if your current drench is really working or not.
