One50 AR37 is a late heading perennial ryegrass providing good dry matter production and high quality feed for silage and hay. It is high yielding and offers good summer/autumn/winter production. With good leaf production through summer and high dry matter production through autumn/winter, One50 AR37 displays spring quality and summer leafiness. Due to One50 AR37's late heading date it maintains vegetative leaf production into late spring and early summer, making pasture management easier.

AR37 endophyte takes ryegrass pasture persistence and protection to a premium level

An endophyte is a fungus found naturally in many grass species, including ryegrass. It provides the plant with protection from insects, and in return the plant provides the endophyte with a place to live and reproduce.

Pests controlled: Argentine Stem Weevil Larvae, Pasture Mealy Bug, Adult Black Beetle and Root Aphid.

Sowing Rate: 15-25kg/ha

Rainfall: Minimum 700mm per annum

Endophytes: AR37

Heading Date: Late - 21 days later than Nui

Pasture Life: 5 years+

Soil Fertility: High (Olsen P 20+)

Ploidy: Diploid

NSW Sheep & Goat eID Equipment Rebate Program

The NSW Government has announced the NSW Sheep & Goat eID Equipment Rebate Program, providing valuable support for producers and livestock agents looking to invest in electronic identification equipment.

Under this program, eligible applicants can receive a 50% rebate (up to $1,500) on the purchase of a handheld eID reader. With $2 million in total funding available, we encourage producers to apply early to avoid missing out.

Key dates:

Applications open: 2 March 2026

Applications close: 31 August 2026 (or earlier if funds are exhausted)

You may be eligible if you:

- Have a valid NSW Property Identification Code (PIC)
- Hold an active ABN
- Have not previously received funding under the NSW Sheep and Goat eID Infrastructure Rebate Scheme

This rebate aligns perfectly with the upcoming release of the new Gallagher HRO Stick Reader, a cost-effective, entry-level handheld reader.

For full rebate details and application information, visit the NSW DPI website or speak with our team in store. We'll be happy to help you find the right reader and make the most of this funding opportunity.
